Celebrating 30 years of compassionate care among the ferns and floral was Family Hospice and Palliative Care. The Thursday night party at Phipps Conservatory and Botanical Gardens, "A Tropical Tribute to Thirty Years," featured entertainment, wine and hors d'oeuvres. Rafael Sciuillo, president and CEO of the third leading hospice provider in Pennsylvania, talked about the changes in care for those with "life-limiting illness." He was part of a program emceed by WTAE-TV anchor Andrew Stockey. A special four-legged guest, Ivan the therapy dog, made the rounds, spreading his puppy love.
